Disease

Animals showing evidence of infectious or contagious disease, external parasitism, active ringworm lesions, multiple warts that are easily visible without close examination, or atrophic rhinitis may not participate.

Species Requirements

Animals entering the fairgrounds must meet the requirements of their particular species.

Certificate of Veterinary Inspection

Arkansas livestock (except for Arkansas sheep and steers) must be accompanied by a Certificate of Veterinary Inspection issued within 90 days prior to exhibition. A Certificate of Veterinary Inspection is a legible record (made on an official form issued from the state of origin) by an accredited veterinarian, which shows that the animal listed thereon meets health requirements of the state of destination. It must bear the identification of each animal. Separate certificates are required for each species of animal entered. The Certificate of Veterinary Inspection must show the following:

Arkansas Cattle

- Since Arkansas is a class-free state, Arkansas cattle are exempt from brucellosis testing.

- Heifers 4-12 months of age must be vaccinated.
- Heifers over 12 months old must be vaccinated unless they are from a Certified Brucellosis-Free Herd.
- Steers are not required to have a health certificate, but all animals will be examined and must be free of any transmissible disease. Steers are not required to be tested for brucellosis or tuberculosis.

Sheep and Meat Goats

Sheep or meat goats showing clinical symptoms of scrapie will immediately be quarantined and required to undergo any approved diagnostic tests. The animal will be consigned to slaughter or destruction with submission of tissues to an approved diagnostic laboratory at the exhibitor's expense.

Commingleing (as defined by the Arkansas Scrapie Regulation) of sheep or goats of different flock status (as defined by the Voluntary Flock Certification Program) is prohibited and must be reported to the VFCEP state official and State Veterinarian.

Sheep or goats showing symptoms of disease, particularly foot rot, sore mouth, sheep pox, evidence of fungal infection, evidence of abscesses or draining abscesses, may not participate. These animals may be released by fair officials, veterinarians, and state or federal personnel.

Sheep

Sheep must be tagged with a Scrapie Identification Tag upon arrival at the fairgrounds. If your sheep are from a Certified Scrapie-Free Herd, advise the Superintendent and they will be penned accordingly.

Sheep will be inspected on the fairgrounds. Sheep showing symptoms of foot-rot or wool fungus may not participate.

Dairy Goats

Registered dairy goats entering the fairgrounds must be accompanied by a registration certificate (in exhibitor's name) with matching permanent identification.

Unregistered goats must be tagged with a Scrapie Identification Tag upon arrival at the fairgrounds.

If your goats are from a Certified Scrapie-Free Herd, advise the Superintendent and they will be penned accordingly.

Health certificates will not be required, but goats may be examined on grounds by fair personnel, veterinarians, and state or federal personnel. Goats showing evidence of disease may be released.

Rabbits

Health certificates will not be required for rabbits, but they must be free of disease with no ear mites or sore hocks.

PoultryNo Commercial Broilers or Turkeys can be exhibited.

An official representing the person sponsoring the exhibition must notify the State Veterinarian no later than 30 days prior to the exhibition, giving the names, place, inclusive dates and times of the event. The requirements for exhibition are as follows:

Pullorum-Typhoid Status

All poultry, including turkeys, must have had a negative Pullorum-Typhoid test within 90 days of the exhibition. This information will be documented on an NPIP form VS9-3, NPIP form VS9-2, or similar certificate and must accompany the poultry during the exhibition.

Poultry showing evidence of infectious or contagious disease or insect infestation may not participate.

Record Keeping

The exhibition sponsor must compile a list of all poultry present at the exhibition. The list must contain the name and addresses of each owner, the number, the species, breed, variety, type, sex and Pullorum-Typhoid status. A copy of this list will be retained by the exhibition sponsor for at least 12 months.
